

An open house on bladder health

Learn about the latest in pediatric and adult bladder health

When it comes to your health, your bladder is very important. The fact is, bladder conditions are very common in children, men and women. Fortunately, bladder conditions are also highly treatable. At the Center for Bladder Health of DuPage Medical Group, we invite you to attend our upcoming open house event. Learn about the latest in bladder health, attend a physician presentation and meet our staff. You can also participate in a free bladder screening. We hope you can attend this highly informative event.
